

The S AM Swiss Architecture Museum is the leading institution in the mediation of contemporary architecture in Switzerland. At the same time, S AM sees itself as a platform that is firmly established Switzerland-wide and has an international presence.

S AM is seeking a

to begin on the 1st of January 2016.

With the support of a committed team, you will define the museum's orientation and develop a long-term focus for the museum's content. You will curate exhibitions, position and represent the museum in public, and take responsibility for publications.

You must have good connections, be highly familiar with Swiss architectural culture and also have excellent knowledge of the international architecture scene. Experience in the conception, planning and realisation of exhibitions, as well as in architecture mediation within the context of publications and public discourse, is expected.

You must be able to lead staff, to encourage them, and also to motivate them by means of task delegation, clear objectives and decision-making. While German and English are essential languages, skills in other national languages are advantageous.

You will represent the museum and report to the Board of Trustees.

More information on S AM can be obtained from the website and from the museum's mission statement (www.sam-basel.org). For more information, you are welcome to contact Prof. Laurent Stalder (ls@sam-basel.org), who is a member of the Board of Trustees.

We eagerly await your application (in german), to be sent to the Board of Trustees by the 31st of July, addressed as follows:

Mr S. Schultze
President of the Board of Trustees
